

26: The Great Reno Balloon Race (Melina and Hiro)

W: (yawn) It's WAY too early to be awake, Hiro. The sun isn't even up yet.

M: That's why I just pulled an all-nighter!

W: Seriously? Dude, you're nuts...

M: Melina, YOU'RE the one who invited me to the Great Reno Balloon Race, remember?

W: Hey, you've gotta see it! It's the largest free hot-air balloon event in the entire world! Over 100,000 people come every year! ... But that doesn't make me any less tired.

M: Hey, don't you work at a coffee shop?? Or, you could've made coffee at home...

W: Ugh, trust me, when you work at a coffee shop, the LAST thing you want to do is make coffee at home.

M: Hey, look, there's a balloon shaped like Darth Vader from Star Wars! That's so cool!
